BANDIT EVANS IN JAIL.

Caught In His Old Home Near the City of Visalia.

VISALIA, Feb. 19.—Chris Evans and his desperado companion, Morrell, are again inside prison walls, and no care or caution will be omitted to make sure that they do not again lead the officers a merry chase.

The capture was brought about by Evans' recklessness. He had come down from the mountains and was at his old home on the outskirts of Visalia. The house was surrounded by a large posse armed with rifles. There was no possibility of escape for the bandits. If one had shown his head from door or window a dozen rifles would have cracked.

They broke jail on the night of the 28th of last December. Since then the two fugitives have been closely followed by posses of officers and in two instances shots were exchanged, but at no time did the bandit and his companion shoot to kill. Evans will now be quickly sent to the penitentiary to begin his term of life imprisonment, while his companion will be prosecuted for felony in assisting in the jail delivery. The maximum punishment for this offense is ten years imprisonment, and the prospects are that no leniency will be shown.

FRESNO, Feb. 20.—Chris Evans was taken from jail to the Superior Court room of Department 2 at 10 o'clock this morning. The courtroom was crowded with people.
His attorney, S. J. Hinds, made a motion for a new trial, which was denied. He then asked that Evans be sent to San Quentin, instead of Folsom, but the Judge refused the request and ordered him incarcerated at Folsom for life.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH MEETS.

Special Session to Consider the Smallpox Cases.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST PESTILENCE.

Honolulu's Sanitary Watch-Dogs Are on the Alert—Six Smallpox Cases now at the Station—A Shot-Gun Quarantine —A Double Dose of Vaccine Ordered.

The Board of Health held a special meeting yesterday afternoon to consider the matter of the smallpox on board the bark Horatio; present—Attorney-General Smith, Dr. Meyers, Mr. Reynolds and Messrs. Ena, Waterhouse, Lansing and the Secretary, Charles Wilcox.

The following memorandum report was presented by Dr. Meyers:
BOARD OF HEALTH,
OFFICE OF PORT PHYSICIAN,
HONOLULU, March 5, 1894.

TO THE HON. BOARD OF HEALTH:
GENTLEMEN—On Saturday, March 3d, I was called upon by Mr. Reynolds to board the American bark Horatio, with sickness on board. The yellow flag was hoisted. Both the pilot boats being in use, I telephoned Minister King for use of tug boat, which was immediately granted. The bark is of wood, tonnage 349, no cargo, belonging to port of New Bedford, U. S. A., commanded by George L. Donaldson; Honolulu agents, Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company; last port of call, San Francisco Bay, Dec. 28th, 6 a. m.; left San Francisco Nov. 23, 1893, for a two years' whaling voyage; officers and crew, thirty-three. I found small-pox on board—six men in the early stage and seven convalescent. The captain reports that first case broke out Feb. 8th and died on the 12th at 12 o'clock; second death Feb. 13th at 1 o'clock in the morning. They were natives of St. Lawrence Bay. The following are now sick and at quarantine: Phoebe Lake, second mate between seasons and third mate north; Anton Roderique, W. F. Pilgrim, O.
E. Harris, Dan Mitzendorf and Manuel Lopez. The names of those buried at sea are Marder and Chenie.

On Sunday, March 4th, at 7 a. m. I was again called upon by Mr. Reynolds to re-visit the Horatio, as she had signalled for medical aid. Responding immediately, we put out from the bark, and found nothing different from the day before. We saw that the sick men were in readiness to be transported to quarantine, as per direction of Mr. Reynolds the day before. The six men were, with their bedding, put in a small ship's boat and towed, with crew from Horatio, to the station, Mr. Reynolds and myself leading the way in shore boats.
When arriving at quarantine they were placed in charge of nurse, medicine being left for them. Saturday, after our visit to the bark, Mr. Reynolds and myself had our clothing fumigated with sulphur and took baths. Sunday we were fumigated a second time with sulphur. For further information I refer you to Mr. Reynolds. All of which is most respectfully submitted.

ROBT. P. MYERS, M. D.
Port Physician.

Mr. Reynolds stated briefly what precautionary steps the Board had taken. There were four guards on duty at the station—two reliable white men besides Mr. McVeigh and Mr. Wright.

In response to a question of the Attorney-General, Mr. Reynolds thought the less communication with the quarantine island the better. The supplies would be boated over and left on the end of the wharf, where the guards would receive them.

The Attorney-General suggested that the men over there be supplied with some reading matter.

Mr. Reynolds stated that he generally furnished them with something of the sort.

Referring to quarantine, Dr.
Meyers stated that when physician at Savannah it had not been regarded as necessary to quarantine the physician after visiting small-pox patients.

Referring to the precautions being taken, the Attorney-General stated that Mr. McVeigh had proved himself an exceedingly reliable man. He had been in the employ of the Board a long time.

The Attorney-General wished to take the sense of the Board on the necessity of having more guards.

Mr. Reynolds stated that there were three patients able to walk and three others who were very bad. It would be fully five weeks from the time they contracted the disease before they could be returned to their ship. It would not be safe for the captain to take them on board. There had been other cases on board who had got well.

Mr. Lansing said if Mr. Mc-Veigh required assistance he should have it, but as there were four, that should be sufficient for the present.

The other members of the Board were of the same mind. Mr. Reynolds said the patients were all in one room, and that Mr. Wright camped right there with them, and knew what they were about.

Mr. Waterhouse said the whaler had a considerable number of men and a good many boats, and it would be hard to keep them off, if they tried to get ashore.

Mr. Reynolds said he had armed his men and told them to keep them from landing at all events.

Dr. Meyers stated that the captain had said he would shoot the men himself if they tried to land.

The suggestion being made that the captain might want to go to sea, Mr. Reynolds said that the captain had fully made up his mind to stay. He and his mate might both be taken down at once with the disease, in that case they would not want to be at sea.

The subject of vaccinating the men on board being raised, Dr.
Meyers said that some of the men had been vaccinated already, but it would be well to vaccinate them all again. There was no vaccine virus in town, but a fresh supply would be due by the Mariposa.

The Attorney-General said that vaccine was imported by Benson, Smith & Co., (through an arrangement with the Government), by every steamer from the south. He thought it might be well to have more.

The Board voted to have a double supply imported.

In reply to an inquiry, Dr. Meyers said he thought every precaution had been taken. He had been in charge of a city of fifty thousand inhabitants, and nothing more had been done than here.

Attention was drawn to the need of a substantial steam launch for the use of the Board of Health and Custom House.

Mr. Reynolds said the captain wanted to get a letter ashore to send to the owners.

Mr. Ena stated that the man now in command was really the mate, and that the captain was expected on the Mariposa.

The matter of the letter to the owners was deferred.

The Attorney-General said the Board could hold a special meeting at any time.

In reply to an inquiry, Mr. Reynolds said the fishermen did not go near the Quarantine Station.
There had never been any case of an escape from the station. He had great confidence in McVeigh, who took hold of the matter as though he meant business. The patients are all doing well, though two of them, the mate and a big Portuguese, were pretty sick.

Mr. Reynolds said he wanted a couple of old shot guns.

It was voted that Mr. Reynolds buy two.

At 3 p. m. the Board adjourned.

CURED BY A BATH

An Hawaiian Has a New Remedy
For Smallpox.

The smallpox cases on the whaling bark Horatio have attracted considerable attention during the last few days, especially when it was known that there was an Hawaiian sailor aboard. This man, who was one of those attacked by the disease, was cured by a method that would have killed almost any other man.

He was attacked while the ship was in northern waters, and when he felt the fever approaching he had a longing for water. He fought against it for some time, but at last the longing overcame him and he jumped overboard, into the cooling sea.

As is well-known, water is the best friend of smallpox. Usually, when ill with the disease, a patient finds that a bath in cold water is nearly always fatal. But in the Hawaiian's case, it was the means of saving his life. He recovered in a very few days after taking his plunge, and is now as well as possible. It would hardly be advisable, however, for anyone else to try the same remedy, unless they were prepared to shuffle off this mortal coil.

GOOD NEWS FOR HAWAII.

Senator Morgan's Report On Hawaiian Affairs.

THE ACTION OF STEVENS APPROVED

The Report Declares That "When a Crown Falls in Any Kingdom of the Western Hemisphere It is Pulverized."—Recall of Minister Willis.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Morgan, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, to-day presented the report of the investigations of that committee made under a resolution requiring it to report "whether any, and if so, what irregularities occurred in the diplomatic or other intercourse between the United States and Hawaii in relation to the secret political revolution in Hawaii."

The report is prepared by Morgan and concurred in by Frye, Dolph and Davis, Republican members of the committee, who make also a supplemental report. Butler, Turpie, Daniel and Gray, Democrats, submit a minority report.

The report declares against mon-archism in the islands, saying we exercise at least moral suzerainty over Hawaii, which, it says, "is an American State embraced in the American commercial and military system," entitling her to the indulgent consideration, if not active sympathy, in her endeavors to release her people from odious anti-republican regime which subordinated her people to the supposed divine right of a monarch "whose title to such divinity originated in the most slavish conditions of pagan barbarity."

The report approves Minister Stevens' order landing troops from the Boston, on the ground that conditions existed which led naturally to the apprehension of civil commotion and endangering the security of American citizens, and points out that on three or four previous occasions similar action had been taken. This condition, the report says, grew out of the effort of the Queen to overthrow the constitution, and that her act amounted to an act of abdication and neutralized her power to protect American citizens.

The report declares: "The purpose of Minister Stevens and Capt.
Wiltse was legitimate, and that they acted in good faith and with no interests except that of protecting American citizens and preserving order."

The report adds: "When a crown falls in any kingdom of the Western hemisphere it is pulverized, and when the scepter departs it departs forever. American opinion cannot sustain any American ruler in the
